

A watercolor illustration featuring various green leaves and thin, gold-colored branches. The leaves are in different shades of green, some with gold speckles. The branches are thin and delicate, with some having small gold dots. The background is white with soft, orange and yellow watercolor washes, particularly on the left side.

You are so much sunshine
in every square inch.

Whitman